Dates: 03/02/2021 - 01/12/2021

Frequency: Weekly, Wed 1:15pm - 2:15pm

Location: Parkwood Classroom 4 35-39 Tortice Drive Ringwood North

Over the years the class has had two courses of great poems in English, a study of the poetry of Shakespeare's Macbeth and courses of Australian and American poetry. In 2019 American poetry concludes. In 2020 we start a new course on Great Poems in English. Class members will be provided with a set of class texts. An important element of the course is members' contribution to class discussion

There is no required background other than enthusiasm to learn. Our poetry discussion leads us into many interesting aspects of the life we share.

21LIT60: ADVENTURES AT THE END OF A PEN

Type: Long Course

Dates: 01/02/2021 - 29/11/2021

Frequency: Weekly, Mon 12:00noon - 2:00pm

Location: Parkwood Classroom 4 35-39 Tortice Drive Ringwood North

Perhaps you have already begun to write. Perhaps you have always thought of doing so. Perhaps you would now like to get into the habit of capturing observations, memories and inventions and turning them into pieces others will enjoy hearing. Although being published is not necessarily the point of writing, it is nice, perhaps even life-changing when it happens. In 'Adventures At The End Of A Pen' you are encouraged to experiment, and to learn techniques that support your own progress in the general direction of glory. The course is led by former journalist, author and adult educator Viki Wright Rivett. She has thick files of articles and magazine stories and a pretty big shelf of books by former students. These grew through many years of teaching writing in universities, colleges and less formal circumstances
