24COM50: PERSONAL CYBER SECURITY

Type: Short Course

Dates: 09/02/2024 - 23/02/2024

Frequency: Short Course, Fri 9:30am - 12:00noon

Location: Parkwood Classroom 1 35-39 Tortice Drive Ringwood North

Fee: $0.00

Does the prospect of identity theft and cyber-crime concern you? Do you suspect that the one password that you use everywhere is no longer good enough? If you do have many passwords, are you struggling to remembering them all? Our online interactions should be underpinned by simple and effective techniques to protect ourselves, and our loved ones, against viruses, scams, identity theft and other online threats. This course provides such techniques in a collaborative atmosphere, including having you set up your own password vault containing a different, complex password for each of the organisations or services with which you interact online. Importantly, you need to remember only one master password. During the course you will most likely take up an annual subscription for an Anti-Virus, a VPN and a Password Vault if you don't have them already. It is expected that you will bring your own computer/tablet, and your own mobile phone (fully charged and/or bring your chargers). This course runs from 9:30am to 12:00 (including a break) on three successive Fridays. The first two days are theory with some practical. The third day is largely practical

No admission after 9:30am on the first day of the course.

Fee: $0.00

This is an event for those who enjoy tasting wines of different styles, made from different grape varieties and from different wine growing regions around the world while having a nibble on food that complements the wine and of course a friendly chat. We will taste the wines of the great wine growing regions of the Mediterranean, including Spain, France Italy and Greece, the emerging wine regions of South America and of course Australia. Our joint Class Leader has first-hand knowledge to share about the wines of southern Europe having visited vineyards in this region and has actually grown a number of southern Europe grape varieties in Australia. The class is very informal and encompasses discussion about what we taste and what we like or dislike and why. and class members are actively involved in selecting what we taste and in leading discussion. From time to time the class has the benefit of a guest expert to help us better understand how the winemaker's skills, the grape, the "terroir" and seasonal issues combine to produce the wines we prefer. The direction of the course is determined by the class members and a small fee is charged to cover expenses.

No prerequisites.

Literature

24LIT20: CREATIVE/EXPRESSIVE/REFLECTIVE WRITING

Type: Long Course

Dates: 05/02/2024 - 06/12/2024

Frequency: Weekly, Mon 12:00noon - 3:00pm

Location: Parkwood Classroom 4 35-39 Tortice Drive Ringwood North

Fee: $0.00

Perhaps you have already begun to write. Perhaps you have always thought of doing so. Perhaps you would now like to get into the habit of capturing observations, memories and inventions and turning them into pieces others will enjoy hearing. Although being published is not necessarily the point of writing, it is nice, perhaps even life-changing when it happens. In this course you are encouraged (in a self-help group) to experiment, and to learn techniques that support your own progress in the general direction of glory.

24LIT30: POETRY FOR PLEASURE

Type: Long Course

Dates: 31/01/2024 - 06/12/2024

Frequency: Weekly, Wed 1:00pm - 2:15pm

Location: Parkwood Classroom 4 35-39 Tortice Drive Ringwood North

Fee: $0.00

If you are curious about poetry but have never quite given it the time, perhaps this class is a good opportunity for you to try it out. This year we continue our journey with the poets of the twentieth century – primarily English, Australian and American - finding there's so much to delight and to reward us. In this class we take a relaxed and easy journey together to discover the ideas and preoccupations of the poets and their times as expressed in the fascinating language of poetry. We all pitch in to the discussion, each bringing our unique perceptions and interpretations to the poems.. We are ever surprised and delighted by our discoveries and come to realise why poetry has been so valued and enjoyed throughout the ages. We share more than a few stories and laughs while we learn.

Loving poetry and the English language is the only requirement for membership of the class.

24LIT50: BOOK CLUB
